

You are being invited to participate in a study of speech production.

- The study involves:
 - Completing a series of speech and non-speech tasks
 - Filling out a series of questionnaires
- The study will include:
 - One virtual session at a place convenient to you lasting no longer than 2 hours.
- We are seeking participants with and without Parkinson's disease to gain a better understanding of speech production in adults with and without Parkinson's disease.
- Participation is voluntary, so you will receive no payment and there is no financial cost associated with participating.
- This study is being conducted by Anna Gravelin, M.S., CCC-SLP (gravela@bgsu.edu; 616-450-8615) in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders at Bowling Green State University under the advisement of Jason Whitfield, Ph.D. CCC-SLP (jawhitf@bgsu.edu).

For more information about the Motor Speech lab you can visit our website by using this QR code or visiting <https://goo.gl/7ns37f>

If you are interested in hearing more about this study, or are considering volunteering, please respond to the email address gravela@bgsu.edu with your contact information.